

Those Who Serve Community Ask Its Aid

Drive To Begin For New Hills Fire Truck

The air was pierced Friday by the scream of a siren as a Fairless Hills fire truck sped to battle a blaze.

Like so many times before, volunteer firemen manned the truck and were off to risk their lives for the safety of their community.

But they never reached the fire.

A screech of brakes, a sickening crash and one of Fairless Hills' two fire trucks was in a shambles from an accident with a large dump truck.

Four firemen were injured. They are recovering rapidly. The fire truck may not be salvaged.

The Fairless Hills Fire company is stretching out its hand to the residents of the community to get back on its feet.

A drive for a new fire truck begins tomorrow night. The goal for the shiny, red fire fighter is $20,000. That's the approximate cost of a new truck, according to fire company president John Rock.

Leaving no stone unturned, or no door bell unring, the Fairless Hills firemen will make a personal, door to door canvass in the fund raising drive.

Every house in Fairless Hills will be visited starting tomorrow night at 6:30. The firemen will be ready and able to tell the story of their need to the community.

Along with the message they preach, the firemen will have an envelope and a letter with them.

The envelope will be empty. The letter will tell the story of the accident and the reasons for the need of another fire truck.

One week later, the firemen will return to the Fairless Hills homes they have visited. They will come back for the envelope

"This time," Mr. Rock said, "we hope it's filled."

On November 30, 1952, the damaged fire truck was put into service in the newly organized company. It has served the company well ever since.

The truck was purchased for $14,500. It was paid for partially through donations and through a loan taken out by the fire company. The loan has just been recently paid off and fire officials are reluctant to go into debt again.

The letter to the public states, "The spirit and will to succeed has prevailed in this company. This is the spirit in which we are attacking the fund raising drive."

It is also pointed out in the letter that no other fund drive has been held though the company has added new equipment since its inception.

The letter ends with a statement by the firemen, "We are duty bound to help you. Won't you please help us?"

United Fund Drive Attains 48% Of Goal

Cash contributions and pledges to the Bucks County United Community Fund totaling $231,118—48 per cent of the Lower Bucks goal were reported at a meeting of campaign workers in Bristol last night.

Some 50 volunteers met in the Kaiser Metal Products Co. cafeteria, as guests of the Kaiser firm, and submitted reports to General Campaign Chairman George G. Gray from all six divisions in the drive.

Mr. Gray and George E. Otto, president of the United Fund, commended the campaign workers for their progress and urged them to continue their intense efforts as the drive continues.

"Prospects are excellent that we will get very satisfying results in this campaign," Mr. Gray commented after the returns were added. "In all divisions we should finish substantially ahead of last year's campaign."

Meet Next Tuesday

The location of next week's report meeting—second in a series of three—was announced by Mr. Gray. It will be held at the William Penn Center, Fallsington, Tuesday, Oct. 30, with all campaign workers invited and urged to bring their collections and reports.

Dinner, privately sponsored, will be served at 6 p.m. The third report dinner will be held Wednesday, November 7 at the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp.

In the Industrial Division, a report from Chairman Otto Grupp, 3d, read by Adrian Hoffman, executive director, with a separate report for small industries made by H. M. Caldwell, totaled $206,271.

In the Small Business Division, Thomas Keefe reported collections of $1088.75 from retail establishments in Bristol township, with additional gifts expected. Anthony Mandio said the Bristol borough drive among retail firms, one-third completed, has netted $650 while Henry Palmer, Jr., said the partially completed solicitation of Langhorne businesses had collected $95.

With other small business returns, reported by Mr. Hoffman in the absence of Chairman James D. Logan, Division returns were totaled at $2484.

Levittown Canvas

Mrs. W. David Price, Levittown chairman in the Residential Division, reported that with one-third of Levittown canvassed, more than $1700 in cash and pledges has been donated. With other local returns in the Lower Bucks drive, which is under the direction of Mrs. James D. Douglass, the Division returns to date were totaled at $2145.

A report of $13,058 collected in the special gifts drive, submitted (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

2 More Locals Join Protest Against USW Union Dues Hike

PITTSBURGH — UP — Rank-and-file resentment to a $2 a month dues increase boiled over to two more large locals of the United Steelworkers today.

Members of USW Locals 1397 U. S. Steel's Homestead Works and 2227 at U. S. Steel's Irvin Works have signed petitions demanding a special union convention designed to return the dues to the $3 a month level.

(Telephone calls to the Levittown Times today indicated there was also much dissatisfaction at the Fairless plant over the rise in dues and officials' salaries. As yet there was no organized

Starlight In Her Eyes

'Helpful' Friend Caught Stealing

A Levittown man who methodically rifled the cash register of friends over a period of months while acting as an "unpaid employee" was given a year's suspended sentence in Bucks County Prison yesterday afternoon.

John J. Stetz, 37, of 15 Tea Rose lane, Thornridge, who holds a top secret rating as a U. S. government employee, was given the suspended sentence by President Judge Edward G. Biester after he pleaded guilty to taking $111.50 from cash registers at York Pharmacy, Newportville road, Levittown.

He was placed on probation for one year and ordered to pay $200 to the county.

Stetz, through periodic visits to the pharmacy, became friends with the owner, Robert F. Yorke, helped Yorke with various projects around the store and eventually started waiting on customers.

He is a chief material advisor on inspections with the Army Ordnance Department in Philadelphia. One of his main jobs was inspecting and approving steel products for Army use.

Losses Reputation

He said he receives $223 every two weeks in pay and after deductions clears about $6000 a year. He said the fact that he pleaded guilty means that he loses his top secret rating, his job and a highly responsible reputation which he has built in 16 years' government service.

Stetz said he has never been in trouble with the law before, and five character witnesses testified (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Premier Says Poles In Command

Cyrankiewicz Tells Parliament Decisions Are In Polish Hands

WARSAW — UP — Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz told parliament today that all Russian troops in Poland would return to specifically defined Warsaw pact bases within two days.

Cyrankiewicz also declared firmly that "decision on all Polish matters are now exclusively in Polish hands."

Cyrankiewicz made his announcement when he appeared before the second session of the current meeting of the Sejm parliament to report on the "present situation" in this country.

He spoke against a background of reduced tension inside Poland, but with news of revolt in Communist Hungary reverberating across the world.

The Polish Communist Party restored Wladyslaw Gomulka to power last weekend in a bloodless reassertion of national rights over Soviet control. But in Hungary a similar move to remove Soviet domination resulted in open civil war.

The report by Cyrankiewicz was the first formal indication that Soviet troops actually had moved during the weekend upheaval that restored Gomulka as premier in Poland's move toward national independence within the Communist camp.

Tuesday, authoritative sources said that Russia had ordered its Polish-based troops back to their camps and Russian warships out (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

7 Quizzed In Vice Ring

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Seven men, including a disc-jockey commentator and a teenage dance operator, underwent questioning today prior to a hearing on charges arising from the operation of a vice ring that enticed young girls through proffered "modeling careers."

Warrants were issued for ten alleged suspects by Chief Magistrate Joseph Hersch, who was to conduct the hearings after detectives, moral squad investigators and members of the district attorney's staff conclude their questioning.

Among the seven who surrendered through their attorneys were Steve Allison, who bills himself as "the man who owns midnight," and Bob Horn, Levittown, Pa., former operator of a teenage television program here who now runs dances in Philadelphia and Wildwood, N. J.

The ten warrants, three of which remained to be served, named four men who had previously been arrested during the probe. The four were Bernard Jacobs, former executive of a model agency, commercial photographer Henry Bodanoff, prominent portrait photographer Michael Denning and Louis Carrigill of Devon, Pa., an industrialist. Another warrant naming Leonard Parkinson, a city employee, was accepted through his attorney.

Rec Board Sees $50,000 Budget

Bristol Township's Recreation Board will probably operate on a budget of $50,000 and upwards next year it was disclosed today by Louis R. Hahn, recreation chairman.

The recreation budget, for this year was $35,000, Hahn stated.

The chairman has called a special meeting of the board for Nov. 13 to discuss the budget. He said the increase in expenditures would be needed to take care of the added facilities of the recreation program and for capital improvements of present sites.

The future budget will also depend on plans for township swimming program at Langenfelder lake. Recreation costs are shared equally by the township school board and the Board of Commissioners.

At its meeting last night the recreation board voted to create two new recreation centers for the Blue Ridge-Indian Creek-Plumbridge area of Levittown. The centers would be on the Booz tract, at Green lane and Mill Creek road, and on the former Black property off Newportville road in the Plumbridge section. Both recently purchased by the township school board as sites

Second Polio Shots To Start Tomorrow

Second polio inoculation shots will start today at Morrisville High School and continue through November 16 at the John Fitch school, Levittown, the Bucks County Department of Health announced today.

A total of 87,174 polio inoculations have been recorded as of October 19. Of this total, 55% are for first shots, 39% for second shots and 6% for third shots.

According to the records, 89% of the shots were given to those age groups which are most susceptible to polio. The Department of Health said

New Leader Appeals For End of Revolt

Imre Nagy Clamps Martial Law, Calls In Russian Troops

VIENNA — (UP) — Civil war erupted in Communist Hungary today.

A new Communist regime headed by Premier Imre Nagy, installed in the bloody hours before dawn, appealed desperately but in vain over Budapest radio for an end to the fighting.

Nagy, ousted in April, 1955, as a "Titoist" and called in now to lead the way to a new, Polish-type regime in Hungary, declared martial law and finally called in Russian troops, tanks and armored cars.

Five hours after a declaration of martial law five unidentified jet fighters machine-gunned "counter-revolutionaries" in the streets of Budapest.

Gunfire Audible

The capital was sealed off from the rest of the world but Budapest radio, interspersing its pleas for peace with opera music and with the sound of gunfire clearly audible in the background, was telling the story of the first full-scale revolt in the Soviet Union's eastern European empire.

At mid-afternoon the radio admitted the rebellion had spread beyond the city.

It said "rioters vainly tried to take over the magnesium mines of Tatabanya and Salgotarjan," northwest of Budapest.

Budapest Radio announced that a surrender deadline had been set for 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EDT). But 10 minutes before this deadline expired, the radio announced that the surrender deadline had been extended four hours — from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. (1 p.m. EDT).

It said that all "counter-revolutionaries" who ceased fighting by 6 p.m. would not be court-martialed, a pointed indication that Hungary (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Leader Promises Darcy Probe Support

HARRISBURG — UP — Gov. George M. Leader has promised to "support" a proposed legislative investigation of the state Pardons Board's recent recommendation of clemency for three convicted killers in the Darcy case.

Republican candidates for the state Senate met recently and pledged an investigation of the agency if the GOP retains control of the chamber.

Promises Support

"If it will help to clear the air, I not only would welcome it (the investigation) but I would support it," the governor told a news conference late yesterday.

"I certainly have nothing to hide," he said.

But the governor ducked a question whether Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia, treasurer of the Democratic National committee, had asked him to intervene in the case with the comment that the present is "not the proper time" to answer such a question.

"I'll discuss that at the proper time," the governor said. He pointed out that any legislative investigation could not be held until the new General Assembly meets next January.

Lifted Death Sentences

The governor's acceptance of the board's recommendation lifted the death sentences of David Darcy, 30; Harry Zeitz, 25, and Harold Foster, and gave them life imprisonment for the killing of a bystander in a Feasterville tavern.

Leader devoted a major part of the news conference to answering charges against his administration which Republican statewide candidates have made part of their campaign for the November election.

To a charge that the Highways Department paved a private driveway into a tavern in Fayette County, the governor said the driveway was disturbed by a road improvement project and the state is required by law to repair the damage and put it in usable shape.

Leader explained that $40,000 borrowed from the Motor License Fund to finance October and November payments to school districts would be repaid before next spring when the state's road building program gets into high gear again. Republican candidates had called the move a "grab" at Motor License Fund moneys by the administration.

The governor conceded that the state is having trouble getting and retaining engineers for the Highways department. But he said the state has raised the general level of salaries paid engineers and tried by legislative action to put them on civil service status. He denied that "politics" were driving engineers out of state employment.

"The gentleman who made that charge (Charles C. Smit, Republican candidate for auditor general) led the opposition in his caucus to giving a single Republican vote for the civil service bill," Leader said.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

It seems that the Levittown Ski Club has trouble locating meeting places since the group has grown to about 50 members. Last night 28 of the members attended a gathering in the home of Nan and Ed Hertkorn, 50 Burning Bush lane, Birch Valley. In trying to decide where the next meeting will be held in two weeks, one member came up with the bright idea of meeting in the Lower Bucks hospital. John Eckfeldt, the treasurer of the organization, will be there at that time for a minor operation.

School, Health Discussed By Pennsbury

"The co-ordination of school and county health services" was discussed by Miss Melvina Palmer, director of nursing for the Bucks County Health department, at a meeting last night of the Pennsbury advisory health council.

At the meeting in the Yardley Elementary school cafeteria Miss Palmer described the work of the county health department. She also noted those areas in which the school and health department had a joint responsibility in caring for students and how health personnel can co-operate in carrying out mutual objectives.

Polio Clinic

Sidney Oppenheimer, principal of the Penn Valley Elementary school and co-ordinator of nurses for the Pennsbury system, reported that a co-operative polio vaccine clinic will be held at the William Penn Junior High school, Olds boulevard, Fairless Hills. Elementary and junior high students who received their first inoculations last year, will receive their second shot tomorrow.

Chairman of the advisory council, Joseph Rohrbaugh, principal of Charles H. Boehm Junior High school, announced the appointment of Joseph Malloy, principal of the Yardley Elementary school, as co-chairman of the group.

The council is composed of school nurses, doctors, and dentists, representatives of the teaching personnel of each school, principals, and other administrators of the school system, plus county health office representatives.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 29, at Pennsbury High school. The topic for the evening will be, "Sex Education in the School."

Petitions for a special convention also were being circulated in 28 Beaver Valley locals and at Youngstown, Ohio.

One fourth of the USW's more than 2,700 locals must call for a special convention before one can be held.

Woman Injured In Morrisville

A Trenton woman was rushed to St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, yesterday after she had been struck by a car at Trenton avenue and Crown street, Morrisville.

Morrisville patrolman Mahlon Cummings, investigating the accident, said that Mrs. Catherine Berger, 34, of 441 Walnut avenue, was struck by a car driven by Warren Hunsberger, 18, of 41 Harrison avenue, Morrisville, while she was attempting to cross the street near the shopping center.

Mrs. Berger was treated for deep cuts on the left leg below the knee.

There were no charges filed, police said.

Sectional Halloween parties seem to be planned for many neighborhoods this year. The main purpose is, of course, to keep the children from getting into trouble on "Trick or Treat" night. So don't hide under the bed if you see an array of goblins and ghosts heading up the street.

Tots from the Levittown Nursery faced a tough decision this morning as they went to a food store in the shopping center to pick out a pumpkin to take back to school for Halloween. It was decided beforehand that they wanted a round one, so it could be "smiling." After selecting several, Mrs. Richard Furstein, 5 Kernel lane, Kenwood, one of the parents accompanying the children on the trip, declared that a vote would be taken and the majority would rule. Not too well acquainted with the principles of democracy, the youngsters wanted to know who was this "Mr. Majority" and why wasn't he there.

football and basketball facilities as well as tot lots.

The cost of the two centers was set at $3000. The board voted to request bids for the equipment.

Hahn said work on the centers would begin as soon as the winter breaks next year and the sites should be ready by April.

In other business the board voted to spend $1000 to equip five tot lots. Three of the lots would be in Levittown, one in Croydon and one in Newportville.

Hahn pointed out that Levitt and Sons, Inc., has offered the township Board of Commissioners five sites which could be used as tot lots. The township is expected to accept them shortly.

But Hahn said three of these sites are "bunched" in one area. He said two are in the Kenwood section and one in Dogwood Hollow. The board, he said, would probably equip only one of these.

Land for the Croydon and Newportville tot lots still has to be acquired, he said.

as to his excellent reputation on the job and in the area.

However, according to Yorke, the thefts of cash almost ruined him financially. He said they had been going on for a considerable time, but Stetz admitted taking money only from March of this year until he was spotted on May 29.

A woman employee who started work at the pharmacy in January said she saw Stetz take a $5 bill from a cash register on the night she began work. She said that during January "and every other night I saw him working. I saw him take money from the registers."

Suggests 'Private Eye'

Stetz, as a close friend, was above suspicion, according to Yorke, and he was not spotted until the night the Yorkes hired a private detective, on May 29.

Shortages had been noticed for a long time prior to that date. Mr. and Mrs. Yorke testified, but they never suspected Stetz. They said Stetz agreed that a private detective should be hired because he allegedly told them of an instance he knew of where an employee had been stealing company funds.

Mr. and Mrs. Yorke said that after they felt someone was stealing, they kept a careful watch on every employee except Stetz, but never found anyone taking funds.

They said Stetz also suggested that the shortage could be caused by "overstocking."

Becoming desperate, the couple said they hired William J. Mullen Jr., a Trenton private detective. On May 29, Mullen and Mrs. Yorke watched from a kitchen window into the store and spotted Stetz palming a bill from the cash register.

Mrs. Yorke said she "couldn't believe it" until she saw Stetz take more money and put it in his pocket. Mullen then went out into the store and bought five packs of cigarettes and a heating pad. He said Stetz rang up only part of each purchase and pocketed the rest.

Confronted with the evidence, he said Stetz immediately confessed. Stetz had $40 in his pockets that night but said only $14 belonged to the drugstore.

Yorke testified that he first met Stetz around June of 1954, a short time after he opened the store.

Through occasional talks, he found that he and Stetz were from the same upstate area, which led to further conversation and an eventual friendship between the two men.

Bulldo Shelves

Stetz volunteered to help build some shelves in the store and later did some other work, at no charge, for Yorke.

Yorke said he offered Stetz a part-time job after the latter appeared to be interested in the store, but Stetz refused. "He offered to come in and help, but he said he didn't care whether he got paid or not," Yorke said.

About a year-and-a-half ago, Stetz began helping with customers and ringing up sales, Yorke said. "He came and went as he pleased and never put in definite hours," Stetz reportedly never asked for wages because of his government job.

Firemen Put Out Machine Blaze

The Falls Township Fire company was summoned at 2:18 p.m. yesterday to extinguish a smoldering washing machine at the home of Robert L. Franklin, 12 Blue Spruce lane, Birch Valley, Levittown.

When the machine began to smoke while in use, Mrs. Franklin pulled the plug and summoned the fire company to make sure the fire was extinguished.

County Library Directors Named by Commission

Three Lower Bucks County residents have been appointed to a six-man Bucks County Board of Library directors, it was announced yesterday by the county commissioners.

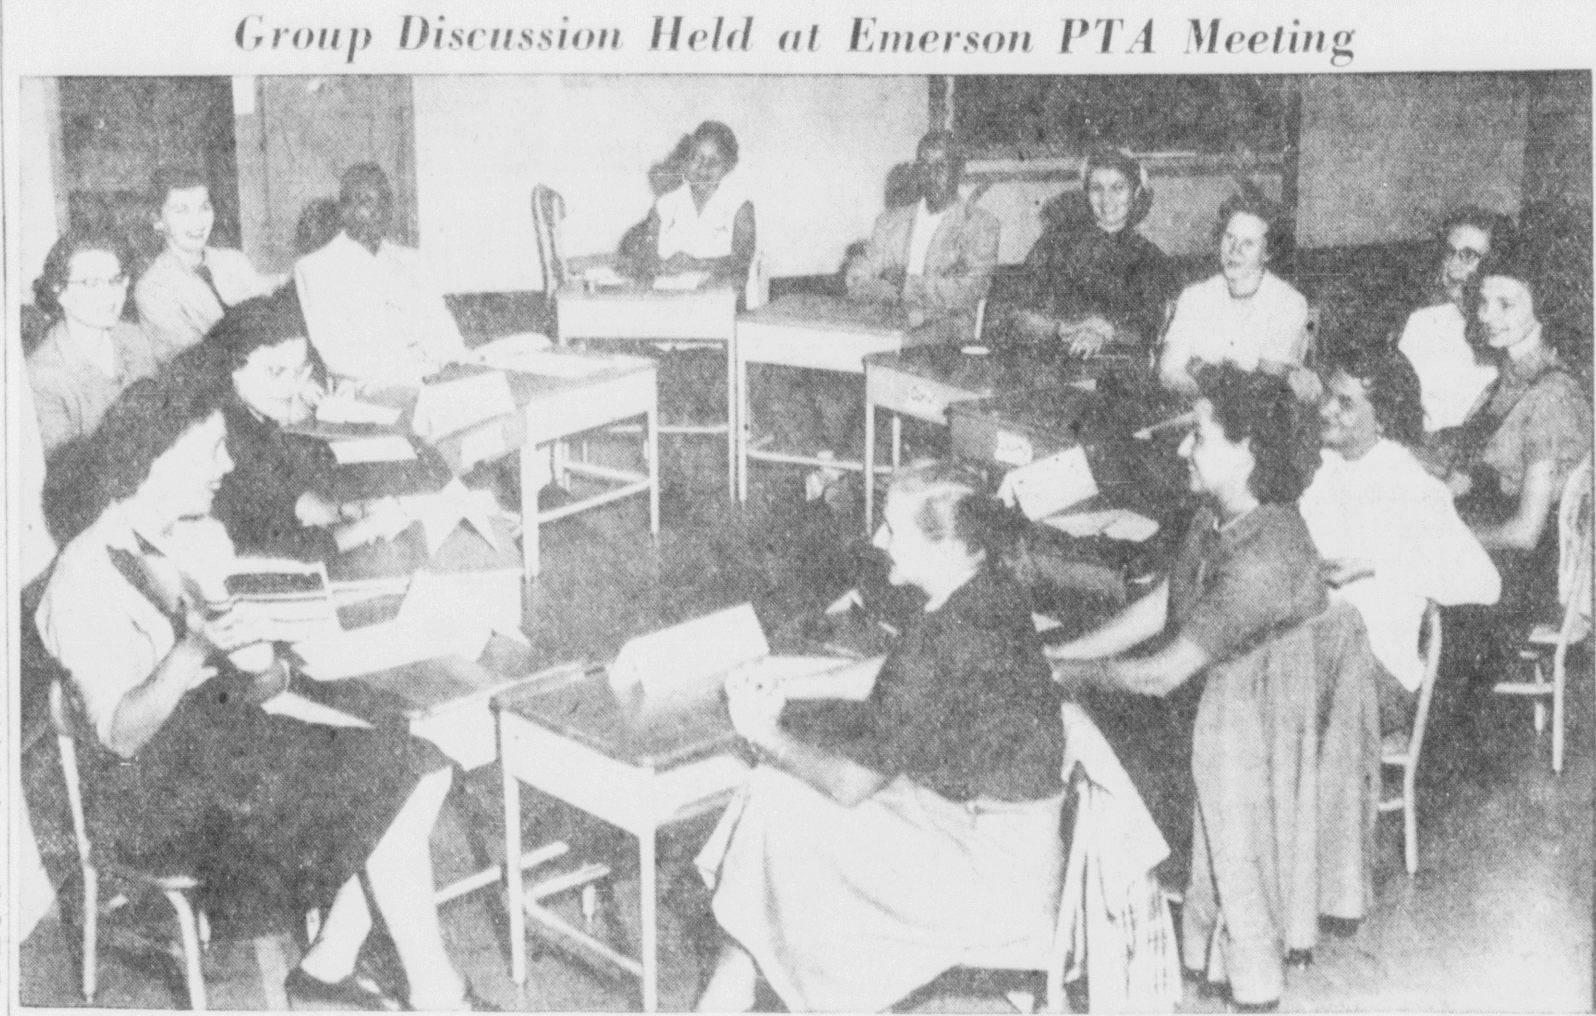

They are:

Dr. Morton Botel, 31 Mulberry lane, Levittown, acting county superintendent of schools; Mrs. Olga DeAngelis, 1104 Lindburgh avenue, Feasterville, an official of Lower Southampton PTA and Library association, and James J. A. Gallagher, 26 Flower lane, Levittown, who will represent labor. Gallagher is a representative of the United Federation of Labor and served on the county bookmobile committee.

Other board members appointed are Mrs. Drusilla Bonney, Perkasee, a school teacher; Mrs. Mabel J. Niemeyer, New Hope, a retired Trenton librarian, and Mrs. Meredith Smith, Richlandtown, who headed the committee which pushed for a free bookmobile service in the county.

The board will meet at a later date to elect a chairman, secretary and treasurer and to organize the library program.

They will head the free bookmobile service recently authorized by the county commissioners. The bookmobile will cost about $20,000 a year to operate.

A group discussion on "How the small child learns" was conducted last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Ralph Waldo Emerson School PTA. Mrs. George McCune, (on left holding book), a first grade teacher at Emerson school, led the talk. She explained to the 13 parents present, how to read with symbols, the way the small child does.

Man Is Fined On Bad Check

Warren Patterson, 463 Austin drive, Fairless Hills, yesterday was fined $50 and ordered to pay costs of prosecution after he pleaded guilty to a worthless check charge.

The county sheriff also was told to see that the amount of the check, $55.12, is paid to Robert J. Fabian, 143 Juniper drive, Levittown.

Patterson, a painter, gave the check to Fabian on June 9 as pay for work the latter had done for Patterson while in his employ.

The check was drawn on the Delaware Valley Bank and Trust company, and after Fabian cashed it, it was returned to him marked "insufficient funds."

Patterson told President Judge Edward G. Biester yesterday that he wasn't sure what his bank balance was when he made out the check, "but the bank always let me know when I overdrew." He said that previously he was allowed time to put the necessary money in the bank.

He also testified that he was expecting payment on a job but that several of his workers left him before the job was completed, making him short of cash.

Patterson has two children and was previously employed by U.S. Steel Corp. as a painter.

of Polish waters. Today Cyankiewicz made these reports official when he stood in parliament and said:

"Within two days Soviet troops will be back in their bases defined under the Warsaw military pact."

The Warsaw military pact is the grouping of Soviet and satellite nations' armies into an organization considered the answer to the West's North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Telephones Khrushchev

The order for the withdrawal of Russian forces from combat-ready positions came from the Kremlin after Gomułka had telephoned direct to Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow, authoritative sources said.

Cyrankiewicz emphasized to parliament the new regime's continued friendship with the Soviet Union. But he also firmly declared that Poland would make her own way along the road to socialism — the same path set out originally by Yugoslav President Tito in his revolt against the Kremlin.

Beer Prices Near Equal

Beer prices in New Jersey and Pennsylvania will be "so nearly the same after Nov. 1, that the slightly lower prices across the river will be almost pennies," a Pennsylvania beer dealer said today.

The New Jersey beer prices are scheduled to jump Nov. 1. The law authorizing the change was passed in June. The price hike in New Jersey will range from 40 to 75 cents for a case of 24 12-ounce cans.

The boost will cause the New Jersey beer to almost equal the present price of Pennsylvania beer, the dealer said, and the difference in price will be "mere pennies."

The dealer went on to say that the practice of Pennsylvanians risking jail sentences by buying New Jersey beer and bringing it back into the Commonwealth, will probably be lessened or eliminated by the price equalization.

garian troops were fighting the Russians.

Although the radio announced that "order was being restored" in many areas throughout the country, it was apparent the fighting was not over.

Reports reaching the West said the Russians had completely surrounded Budapest and were using tanks, machine guns and heavy armored cars.

Receives Surrender Offer

Radio Budapest said Nagy received a five-man delegation of counter-revolutionaries from one area who offered to surrender if they were not court-martialed. The use of the word "court-martial" indicated the delegation may have included members of the Hungarian armed forces. Nagy accepted their offer.

At 1:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. EDT), Budapest Radio said another "strong group of armed counter-revolutionaries surrendered at the corner of Szondy and Voroosmarty streets" in downtown Budapest.

Nagy broadcast his appeal for a cease fire in a voice trembling with excitement. He called on "all who are fighting to put down their arms by 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EDT)." He promised that all who surrendered by that time would not face trial.

Ski instructor Fred Selby showed films at the meeting of the Levittown Ski Club last night at the home of Ed Hertkorn, 50 Burning Bush road, Birch Valley, Levittown.

Drive To Begin For New Hills Fire Truck

The air was pierced Friday by the scream of a siren as a Fairless Hills fire truck sped to battle a blaze.

Like so many times before, volunteer firemen manned the truck and were off to risk their lives for the safety of their community.

But they never reached the fire.

A screech of brakes, a sickening crash and one of Fairless Hills' two fire trucks was in a shambles from an accident with a large dump truck.

Four firemen were injured. They are recovering rapidly. The fire truck may not be salvaged.

The Fairless Hills Fire company is stretching out its hand to the residents of the community to get back on its feet.

A drive for a new fire truck begins tomorrow night. The goal for the shiny, red fire fighter is $20,000. That's the approximate cost of a new truck, according to fire company president John Rock.

Leaving no stone unturned, or no door bell unring, the Fairless Hills firemen will make a personal, door to door canvass in the fund raising drive.

Every house in Fairless Hills will be visited starting tomorrow night at 6:30. The firemen will be ready and able to tell the story of their need to the community.

Along with the message they preach, the firemen will have an envelope and a letter with them.

The envelope will be empty. The letter will tell the story of the accident and the reasons for the need of another fire truck.

One week later, the firemen will return to the Fairless Hills homes they have visited. They will come back for the envelope

"This time," Mr. Rock said, "we hope it's filled."

On November 30, 1952, the damaged fire truck was put into service in the newly organized company. It has served the company well ever since.

The truck was purchased for $14,500. It was paid for partially through donations and through a loan taken out by the fire company. The loan has just been recently paid off and fire officials are reluctant to go into debt again.

The letter to the public states, "The spirit and will to succeed has prevailed in this company. This is the spirit in which we are attacking the fund raising drive."

It is also pointed out in the letter that no other fund drive has been held though the company has added new equipment since its inception.

The letter ends with a statement by the firemen, "We are duty bound to help you. Won't you please help us?"

United Fund Drive Attains 48% Of Goal

Cash contributions and pledges to the Bucks County United Community Fund totaling $231,118—48 per cent of the Lower Bucks goal—were reported at a meeting of campaign workers in Bristol last night.

Some 50 volunteers met in the Kaiser Metal Products Co. cafeteria, as guests of the Kaiser firm, and submitted reports to General Campaign Chairman George G. Gray from all six divisions in the drive.

Mr. Gray and George E. Otto, president of the United Fund, commended the campaign workers for their progress and urged them to continue their intense efforts as the drive continues.

"Prospects are excellent that we will get very satisfying results in this campaign," Mr. Gray commented after the returns were added. "In all divisions we should finish substantially ahead of last year's campaign."

Meet Next Tuesday

The location of next week's report meeting—second in a series of three—was announced by Mr. Gray. It will be held at the William Penn Center, Fallsington, Tuesday, Oct. 30, with all campaign workers invited and urged to bring their collections and reports.

Dinner, privately sponsored, will be served at 6 p.m. The third report dinner will be held Wednesday, November 7 at the Fairless Works of U. S. Steel Corp.

In the Industrial Division, a report from Chairman Otto Grupp, 3d, read by Adrian Hoffman, executive director, with a separate report for small industries made by H. M. Caldwell, totaled $206,271.

In the Small Business Division, Thomas Keefe reported collections of $1088.75 from retail establishments in Bristol township, with additional gifts expected. Anthony Mandio said the Bristol borough drive among retail firms, one-third completed, has netted $650 while Henry Palmer, Jr., said the partially completed solicitation of Langhorne businesses had collected $95.

With other small business returns, reported by Mr. Hoffman in the absence of Chairman James D. Logan, Division returns were totaled at $2484.

Levittown Canvass

Mrs. W. David Price, Levittown chairman in the Residential Division, reported that with one-third of Levittown canvassed, more than $1700 in cash and pledges has been donated. With other local returns in the Lower Bucks drive, which is under the direction of Mrs. James D. Douglass, the Division returns to date were totaled at $2145.

A report of $13,058 collected in the special gifts drive, submitted (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

PITTSBURGH — UP — Rank-and-file resentment to a $2 a month dues increase boiled over to two more large locals of the United Steelworkers today.

Members of USW Locals 1397 U. S. Steel's Homestead Works and 2227 at U. S. Steel's Irvin Works have signed petitions demanding a special union convention designed to return the dues to the $3 a month level.

2-2-2 Plan Is Discussed

The proposed junior college in Lower Bucks and a 2-2-2 set up for secondary schools were discussed last night at a meeting of the PTA president's council of the Pennsbury district in Fairless View school, Fairless Hills.

Richard Currier, principal of Pennsbury High school, informed the president's council of the progress being made for the junior college, which begins next September. He also explained the workings of the 2-2-2 system. Under that setup, grades seven and eight would attend a junior high school, grades nine and ten would attend an intermediate school, and eleven and twelve, senior high school.

Mrs. Fern Stowell, librarian at the Fairless View school, reported a book fair would probably be held sometime in the spring.

He said he receives $323 every two weeks in pay and after deductions clears about $6000 a year. He said the fact that he pleaded guilty means that he loses his top secret rating, his job and a highly responsible reputation which he has built in 16 years' government service.

Stetz said he has never been in trouble with the law before, and five character witnesses testified (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

Premier Says Poles In Command

Cyrankiewicz Tells Parliament Decisions Are In Polish Hands

WARSAW — UP — Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz told parliament today that all Russian troops in Poland would return to specifically defined Warsaw pact bases within two days.

Cyrankiewicz also declared firmly that "decision on all Polish matters are now exclusively in Polish hands."

Cyrankiewicz made his announcement when he appeared before the second session of the current meeting of the Sejm parliament to report on the "present situation" in this country.

He spoke against a background of reduced tension inside Poland, but with news of revolt in Communist Hungary reverberating across the world.

The Polish Communist Party restored Wladyslaw Gomulka to power last weekend in a bloodless reassertion of national rights over Soviet control. But in Hungary a similar move to remove Soviet domination resulted in open civil war.

The report by Cyrankiewicz was the first formal indication that Soviet troops actually had moved during the weekend upheaval that restored Gomulka as premier in Poland's move toward national independence within the Communist camp.

Tuesday, authoritative sources said that Russia had ordered its Polish-based troops back to their camps and Russian warships out (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

7 Quizzed In Vice Ring

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Seven men, including a disc-jockey commentator and a teenage dance operator, underwent questioning today prior to a hearing on charges arising from the operation of a vice ring that enticed young girls through proffered "modeling careers."

Warrants were issued for ten alleged suspects by Chief Magistrate Joseph Hersch, who was to conduct the hearings after detectives, moral squad investigators and members of the district attorney's staff conclude their questioning.

Among the seven who surrendered through their attorneys were Steve Allison, who bills himself as "the man who owns midnight," and Bob Horn, Levittown, Pa., former operator of a teenage television program here who now runs dances in Philadelphia and Wildwood, N. J.

The ten warrants, three of which remained to be served, named four men who had previously been arrested during the probe. The four were Bernard Jacobs, former executive of a model agency, commercial photographer Henry Bodanoff, prominent portrait photographer Michael Denning and Louis Cargill of Devon, Pa., an industrialist. Another warrant naming Leonard Parkinson, a city employee, was accepted through his attorney.

Rec Board Sees $50,000 Budget

Bristol Township's Recreation Board will probably operate on a budget of $50,000 and upwards next year it was disclosed today by Louis R. Hahn, recreation chairman.

The recreation budget, for this year was $35,000, Hahn stated. The chairman has called a special meeting of the board for Nov. 13 to discuss the budget. He said the increase in expenditures would be needed to take care of the added facilities of the recreation program and for capital improvements of present sites.

The future budget will also depend on plans for township swimming program at Langenfelder lake. Recreation costs are shared equally by the township school board and the Board of Commissioners.

At its meeting last night the recreation board voted to create two new recreation centers for the Blue Ridge-Indian Creek-Plumbridge area of Levittown. The centers would be on the Booz tract, at Green lane and Mill Creek road, and on the former Black property off Newportville road in the Plumbridge section. Both recently purchased by the township school board as sites for future schools.

Second Polio Shots To Start Tomorrow

Second polio inoculation shots will start today at Morrisville High School and continue through November 16 at the John Fitch school, Levittown, the Bucks County Department of Health announced today.

A total of 87,174 polio inoculations have been recorded as of October 19. Of this total, 55% are for first shots, 39% for second shots and 6% for third shots.

According to the records, 89% of the shots were given to those age groups which are most susceptible to polio.

New Leader Appeals For End of Revolt

Imre Nagy Clamps Martial Law, Calls In Russian Troops

VIENNA — (UP) — Civil war erupted in Communist Hungary today.

A new Communist regime headed by Premier Imre Nagy, installed in the bloody hours before dawn, appealed desperately but in vain over Budapest radio for an end to the fighting.

Nagy, ousted in April, 1955, as a "Titoist" and called in now to lead the way to a new, Polish-type regime in Hungary, declared martial law and finally called in Russian troops, tanks and armored cars.

Five hours after a declaration of martial law five unidentified jet fighters machine-gunned "counter-revolutionaries" in the streets of Budapest.

Gunfire Audible

The capital was sealed off from the rest of the world but Budapest radio, interspersing its pleas for peace with opera music and with the sound of gunfire clearly audible in the background, was telling the story of the first full-scale revolt in the Soviet Union's eastern European empire.

At mid-afternoon the radio admitted the rebellion had spread beyond the city.

It said "rioters vainly tried to take over the magnesium mines of Tatabanya and Salgotarjan," northwest of Budapest.

Budapest Radio announced that a surrender deadline had been set for 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EDT). But 10 minutes before this deadline expired, the radio announced that the surrender deadline had been extended four hours—from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. (1 p.m. EDT).

It said that all "counter-revolutionaries" who ceased fighting by 6 p.m. would not be court-martialed, a pointed indication that Hungary was not yet at war.

Leader Promises Darcy Probe Support

HARRISBURG — UP — Gov. George M. Leader has promised to "support" a proposed legislative investigation of the state Pardons Board's recent recommendation of clemency for three convicted killers in the Darcy case.

Republican candidates for the state Senate met recently and pledged an investigation of the agency if the GOP retains control of the chamber.

Promises Support

"If it will help to clear the air, I not only would welcome it (the investigation) but I would support it," the governor told a news conference late yesterday.

"I certainly have nothing to hide," he said. But the governor ducked a question whether Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia, treasurer of the Democratic National committee, had asked him to intervene in the case with the comment that the present is "not the proper time" to answer such a question.

"I'll discuss that at the proper time," the governor said. He pointed out that any legislative investigation could not be held until the new General Assembly meets next January.

Lifted Death Sentences

The governor's acceptance of the board's recommendation lifted the death sentences of David Darcy, 30; Harry Zeitz, 25, and Harold Foster, and gave them life imprisonment for the killing of a bystander in a Feasterville tavern.

Leader devoted a major part of the news conference to answering charges against his administration which Republican statewide candidates have made part of their campaign for the November election.

To a charge that the Highways Department paved a private driveway into a tavern in Fayette County, the governor said the driveway was disturbed by a road improvement project and the state is required by law to repair the damage and put it in usable shape.

Leader explained that $40,000-000 borrowed from the Motor License Fund to finance October and November payments to school districts would be repaid before next spring when the state's road building program gets into high gear again. Republican candidates had called the move a "grab" at Motor License Fund moneys by the administration.

The governor conceded that the state is having trouble getting and retaining engineers for the Highways department. But he said the state has raised the general level of salaries paid engineers and tried by legislative action to put them on civil service status. He denied that "politics" were driving engineers out of state employment.

"The gentleman who made that charge (Charles C. Smith, Republican candidate for auditor general) led the opposition in his caucus to giving a single Republican vote for the civil service bill," Leader said.

School, Health Discussed By Pennsbury

"The co-ordination of school and county health services" was discussed by Miss Melvina Palmer, director of nursing for the Bucks County Health department, at a meeting last night of the Pennsbury advisory health council.

At the meeting in the Yardley Elementary school cafeteria Miss Palmer described the work of the county health department. She also noted those areas in which the school and health department had a joint responsibility in caring for students and how health personnel can co-operate in carrying out mutual objectives.

Polio Clinic

Sidney Oppenheimer, principal of the Penn Valley Elementary school and co-ordinator of nurses for the Pennsbury system, reported that a co-operative polio vaccine clinic will be held at the William Penn Junior High school, Olds boulevard, Fairless Hills. Elementary and junior high students who received their first inoculations last year, will receive their second shot tomorrow.

Chairman of the advisory council, Joseph Rohrbaugh, principal of Charles H. Boehm Junior High school, announced the appointment of Joseph Malloy, principal of the Yardley Elementary school, as co-chairman of the group.

The council is composed of school nurses, doctors, and dentists, representatives of the teaching personnel of each school, principals, and other administrators of the school system, plus county health office representatives.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 29, at Pennsbury High school. The topic for the evening will be, "Sex Education in the School."

Mrs. Berger was treated for deep cuts on the left leg below the knee.

There were no charges filed, police said.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

It seems that the Levittown Ski Club has trouble locating meeting places since the group has grown to about 50 members. Last night 28 of the members attended a gathering in the home of Nan and Ed Hertkorn, 50 Burning Bush lane, Birch Valley. In trying to decide where the next meeting will be held in two weeks, one member came up with the bright idea of meeting in the Lower Bucks hospital. John Eckfeldt, the treasurer of the organization, will be there at that time for a minor operation.

Sectional Halloween parties seem to be planned for many neighborhoods this year. The main purpose is, of course, to keep the children from getting into trouble on "Trick or Treat" night. So don't hide under the bed if you see an array of goblins and ghosts heading up the street.

Tots from the Levittown Nursery faced a tough decision this morning as they went to a food store in the shopping center to pick out a pumpkin to take back to school for Halloween. It was decided beforehand that they wanted a round one, so it could be "smiling." After selecting several, Mrs. Richard Fursten, 5 Kernel lane, Kenwood, one of the parents accompanying the children on the trip, declared that a vote would be taken and the majority would rule. Not too well acquainted with the principles of democracy, the youngsters wanted to know who was this "Mr. Majority" and why wasn't he there.

football and basketball facilities as well as tot lots.

The cost of the two centers was set at $3000. The board voted to request bids for the equipment.

Hahn said work on the centers would begin as soon as the winter breaks next year and the sites should be ready by April.

In other business the board voted to spend $1000 to equip five tot lots. Three of the lots would be in Levittown, one in Crofton and one in Newportville.

Hahn pointed out that Levitt and Sons, Inc., has offered the township Board of Commissioners five sites which could be used as tot lots. The township is expected to accept them shortly.

But Hahn said three of these sites are "bunched" in one area. He said two are in the Kenwood section and one in Dogwood Hollow. The board, he said, would probably equip only one of these.

Land for the Crofton and Newportville tot lots still has to be acquired, he said.

as to his excellent reputation on the job and in the area.

However, according to Yorke, the thefts of cash almost ruined him financially. He said they had been going on for a considerable time, but Stetz admitted taking money only from March of this year until he was spotted on May 29.

A woman employee who started work at the pharmacy in January said she saw Stetz take a $5 bill from a cash register on the night she began work. She said that during January "and every other night I saw him working. I saw him take money from the registers."

Suggests 'Private Eye'

Stetz, as a close friend, was above suspicion, according to Yorke, and he was not spotted until the night the Yorkes hired a private detective, on May 29.

Shortages had been noticed for a long time prior to that date. Mr. and Mrs. Yorke testified, but they never suspected Stetz. They said Stetz agreed that a private detective should be hired because he allegedly told them of an instance he knew of where an employee had been stealing company funds.

Mr. and Mrs. Yorke said that after they felt someone was stealing, they kept a careful watch on every employee except Stetz, but never found anyone taking funds. They said Stetz also suggested that the shortage could be caused by "overstocking."

Becoming desperate, the couple said they hired William J. Mullen Jr., a Trenton private detective, on May 29, Mullen and Mrs. Yorke watched from a kitchen window into the store and spotted Stetz palming a bill from the cash register.

Mrs. Yorke said she "couldn't believe it" until she saw Stetz take more money and put it in his pocket. Mullen then went out into the store and bought five packs of cigarettes and a heating pad. He said Stetz rang up only part of each purchase and pocketed the rest.

Confronted with the evidence, he said Stetz immediately confessed. Stetz had $40 in his pockets that night but said only $14 belonged to the drugstore.

Yorke testified that he first met Stetz around June of 1954, a short time after he opened the store.

Through occasional talks, he found that he and Stetz were from the same upstate area, which led to further conversation and an eventual friendship between the two men.

Builds Shelves

Stetz volunteered to help build some shelves in the store and later did some other work, at no charge, for Yorke.

Yorke said he offered Stetz a part-time job after the latter appeared to be interested in the store, but Stetz refused. "He offered to come in and help, but he said he didn't care whether he got paid or not," Yorke said.

About a year-and-a-half ago, Stetz began helping with customers and ringing up sales. Yorke said, "He came and went as he pleased and never put in definite hours." Stetz reportedly never asked for wages because of his government job.

Man Is Fined On Bad Check

Warren Patterson, 463 Austin drive, Fairless Hills, yesterday was fined $50 and ordered to pay costs of prosecution after he pleaded guilty to a worthless check charge.

The county sheriff also was told to see that the amount of the check, $55.12, is paid to Robert J. Fabian, 143 Juniper drive, Levittown.

Patterson, a painter, gave the check to Fabian on June 9 as pay for work the latter had done for Patterson while in his employ.

The check was drawn on the Delaware Valley Bank and Trust company, and after Fabian cashed it, it was returned to him marked "insufficient funds."

Patterson told President Judge Edward G. Biester yesterday that he wasn't sure what his bank balance was when he made out the check, "but the bank always let me know when I overdrew."

He said that previously he was allowed time to put the necessary money in the bank.

He also testified that he was expecting payment on a job but that several of his workers left him before the job was completed, making him short of cash.

Patterson has two children and was previously employed by U.S. Steel Corp. as a painter.

The Warsaw military pact is the grouping of Soviet and satellite nations' armies into an organization considered the answer to the West's North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Telephones Khrushchev

The order for the withdrawal of Russian forces from combat-ready positions came from the Kremlin after Gomulka had telephoned direct to Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow, authoritative sources said.

Cyankiewicz emphasized to parliament the new regime's continued friendship with the Soviet Union. But he also firmly declared that Poland would make her own way along the road to socialism — the same path set out originally by Yugoslav President Tito in his revolt against the Kremlin.

Beer Prices Near Equal

Beer prices in New Jersey and Pennsylvania will be "so nearly the same after Nov. 1, that the slightly lower prices across the river will be almost pennies," a Pennsylvania beer dealer said today.

The New Jersey beer prices are scheduled to jump Nov. 1. The law authorizing the change was passed in June. The price hike in New Jersey will range from 40 to 75 cents for a case of 24 12-ounce cans.

The boost will cause the New Jersey beer to almost equal the present price of Pennsylvania beer, the dealer said, and the difference in price will be "mere pennies."

The dealer went on to say that the practice of Pennsylvanians risking jail sentences by buying New Jersey beer and bringing it back into the Commonwealth, will probably be lessened or eliminated by the price equalization.

Receives Surrender Offer

Radio Budapest said Nagy received a five-man delegation of counter-revolutionaries from one area who offered to surrender if they were not court-martialed. Nagy broadcast his appeal for a cease fire in a voice trembling with excitement. He called on "all who are fighting to put down their arms by 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EDT)." He promised that all who surrendered by that time would not face trial.

Southampton Plans Gala Celebration

Parade, Special Sales To Highlight Opening Of Second Street Pike

A giant celebration, perhaps the greatest in Southampton history, will mark the opening of Second Street pike.

Bands, decorations, special sales, open house, prizes and even a parade are among the tentative plans of the Southampton Businessmen's Association.

A committee has been set up to make arrangements for the gala event, expected to be held the first Friday night after the pike is open to traffic.

Harry Harding, president of the Southampton Businessmen's Association, said that last night's meeting of the businessmen was one of the most enthusiastic in history. "No one was discouraged, and everyone is looking forward to the big celebration and a whole winter of activities commemorating the opening of Second Street pike."

Pike Widened
The pike is being entirely reconstructed and widened from County Line road to Street road, Southampton. Mr. Harding called it "a dream of 25 years come true."

In line with the new development of the business district, the association has moved to initiate a new Christmas program. Santa Claus will come to Second Street pike in a helicopter for the first time in history, and the association has set aside $100 in prizes for the best decorated house.

More plans for the Second Street pike holiday and following events will be made "as we go along," explained Mr. Harding.

Good Evening!

Trouble all over—for the Kremlin.

Fierce rioting against Russia spreads through Hungary as that nation moves to lift the yoke of Soviet slavery and chances are East Germany will be next on the list of recalcitrant satellites.

Meantime, Poland makes her revolt from Kremlin power and influence stick. Well sir, here's hoping and praying the Communist miseries grow worse and worse and worse.

Whatever your political beliefs, you'll have to agree it's reassuring to see President Eisenhower firmly declare that H-bomb tests will continue as a matter of preventing war unless Russia accepts a foolproof system of international safeguards.

We're becoming more convinced that in searching for "issues" Mr. Stevenson picked the wrong horses—H-bomb and the draft.

As this world situation becomes more tense, playing politics with America's two great bastions of security—the H-bomb and military manpower seems more than a bit incongruous.

However, happy we are that old Mister Sun is smiling around the clouds again.

Three days of drizzle sufficient. Another day or so of it and we'd be fizzling.

Surprising developments in that investigation of Philadelphia's insidious vice racket. Or are they?

Some rather prominent names popping up in that inquiry and, considering the viciousness of that ring snaring young girls from the tri-state area, maybe the more names the better.

The man who lives longest never does anything in a hurry, says a doctor. Most of us are just lazy enough to take advantage of that.

Don't worry about not having everything you want. Remember, it's fun having something to look forward to.

If you drive, take it easy.

School Rec Program Poor In Langhorne

Neshaminy Board Says Money Lacking For Improvements

Recreation facilities at Langhorne's schools are in very poor condition and cannot be improved due to lack of funds, it was reported at last night's session of the Neshaminy Joint School Board.

Such facilities at other Neshaminy schools are poor and thousands of dollars are needed to right the situation, according to Dr. Oliver Heckman, regional superintendent.

The board also heard reports which said the school budget has been exceeded by over $122,000, and that thousands of dollars are being lost in the district cafeteria program.

More Pupils
The auditors' report, given to the board by Dr. Heckman, told of the huge jump over the district's last budget of $1,332,000. He attributed this spending to a "larger number of pupils than expected." The budget was established for an anticipated 3,750 students. However, 4,200 pupils are now in attendance.

In answer to a request from one of the board members that the recreation situation at the Pine Street School, Langhorne, be improved, Dr. Heckman reported that there is no money in the budget for such purposes.

He said the situation was just as poor at Langhorne's Cherry Street School and the conditions were poor at the Hulmeville, Penned and Parkland schools, among others.

Dr. Heckman said five or six thousand dollars could be used for recreation facilities this year, and the same amount next year.

"But we don't have it," he added. John Paul, president of the Neshaminy Board, said he would report as 1,907 students. Present

Woman Mayor Earns Draw

COLLEGE SPRINGS, Iowa — UP — A gun-toting woman mayor fought an all-male City Council to a draw last night in her efforts to acquire a salary for her appointed female town marshal.

Both sides stuck to their guns—the mayor seeking money and the council refusing to pay.

In the end, the council was threatened with legal action by the mayor, Mrs. Roy Simpson, 41, and her marshal, Mrs. Harold Byrson, who said they might sue the city's governing body for back salary.

The city hall chamber of the council was jammed with spectators who drifted homeward when Mayor Simpson and the council decided to postpone further discussion on the issue until Nov. 5.

Premier To Report On Polish Crisis

Tension Reduced As Krushchev Makes Friends With Liberals

WARSAW — UP — Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz goes before the Sejm Parliament today to report on the "present situation" in Poland.

News that Soviet Communist Party boss Nikita Krushchev had made friends with Poland's new liberal government helped to reduce tension that built up with first reports of Soviet troop and naval movements.

But Poland's millions were still in a restless mood that may spell further troubles in the next few days. The anti-Soviet outbreaks of the past days are regarded as only part of the many troubles confronting new Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka.

Gomulka delivers his first public address since his restoration to power at a mass rally in Warsaw this afternoon. Warsaw radio called on the "population of the capital" to attend the meeting in front of the 600-foot-high palace of culture which Russia built for Poland as a war memorial.

Anti-Russian sentiment exploded into open disorders in a number of cities before Moscow's declarations of friendship toward the new Polish regime.

Disorders were reported in Poznan, where the "bread and freedom" riots flared last June, and in Lublin, seat of the pro-Soviet Polish governments of World War II. Demonstrations and disturbances also were reported in Gliwice and Lodice and a number of smaller towns.

7 Quizzed In Vice Ring

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Seven men, including a disc-jockey commentator and a teenage dance operator, underwent questioning today prior to a hearing on charges arising from the operation of a vice ring that enticed young girls through proffered "modeling careers."

Warrants were issued for ten alleged suspects by Chief Magistrate Joseph Hersch, who was to conduct the hearings after detectives, moral squad investigators and members of the district attorney's staff conclude their questioning.

Among the seven who surrendered through their attorneys were Steve Allison, who bills himself as "the man who owns midnight," and Bob Horn, Levittown, Pa., former operator of a teenage television program here who now runs dances in Philadelphia and Wildwood, N. J.

The ten warrants, three of which remained to be served, named four men who had previously been arrested during the probe.

The four were Bernard Jacobs, former executive of a model agency, commercial photographer Henry Bodanoff, prominent portrait photographer Michael Denning and Louis Cargill of Devon, Pa., an industrialist. Another warrant naming Leonard Parkinson, a city employee, was accepted through his attorney.

Imre Nagy Takes Over As Premier

Popular Leader Clamps Martial Law On Entire Country

VIENNA — UP — Hungary's Communist regime called in Soviet troops today to crush an armed revolt that flared into open civil war. Popular hero Imre Nagy took over the premiership and appealed for an end to the street fighting raging throughout the country.

Nagy, the popular hero whose return to leadership was the first fruit of the rebellion, clamped martial law on the entire country and then went before the people to try to restore order.

But Budapest radio reported that street fighting still was raging late in the day after night long battles between anti-Stalinist and anti-Communist rebels and Hungarian troops and police.

Budapest Radio said groups of counter-revolutionaries had surrendered, but the fighting apparently still raged throughout the beautiful Danube River city. Broadcasts said "civilians, soldiers and security police" were killed in the shooting.

Receives Surrender Offer

Radio Budapest said Nagy received a five-man delegation of counter-revolutionaries from one area who offered to surrender if they were not court-martialed. The use of the word "court-martial" indicated the delegation may have included members of the Hungarian armed forces. Nagy accepted their offer.

At 1:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. EDT), Budapest Radio said another "strong group of armed counter-revolutionaries surrendered at the corner of Szondy and Veroesmarti streets" in downtown Budapest.

Nagy broadcast his appeal for a cease fire in a voice trembling with excitement. He called on "all who are fighting to put down their arms by 2 p.m. (9 a.m. EDT)." He promised that all who surrendered by that time would not face trial.

Earlier he had ordered the death sentence for all rebels.

Inter-party disagreements on Communist policy and the merits of the hard "Stalinist" policy erupted into violence that extended to all sides. Anti-Communists apparently were fighting both sides in a bloody civil war.

Leader Promises Darcy Probe Support

HARRISBURG — UP — Gov. George M. Leader has promised to "support" a proposed legislative investigation of the state Pardon Board's recent recommendation of clemency for three convicted killers in the Darcy case.

Republican candidates for the state Senate met recently and pledged an investigation of the agency if the GOP retains control of the chamber.

Promises Support

"If it will help to clear the air, I not only would welcome it (the investigation) but I would support it," the governor told a news conference late yesterday.

"I certainly have nothing to hide," he said.

But the governor ducked a question whether Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia treasurer of the Democratic National committee, had asked him to intervene in the case with the comment that the present is "not the proper time" to answer such a question.

"I'll discuss that at the proper time," the governor said. He pointed out that any legislative investigation could not be held until the new General Assembly meets next January.

Lifted Death Sentences

The governor's acceptance of the board's recommendation lifted the death sentences of David Darcy, 30; Harry Zeitz, 25, and Harold Foster, and gave them life imprisonment for the killing of a bystander in a Feasterville tavern.

Leader devoted a major part of the news conference to answering charges against his administration which Republican statewide candidates have made part of their campaign for the November election.

To a charge that the Highways Department paved a private driveway into a tavern in Fayette County, the governor said the driveway was disturbed by a road improvement project and the state is required by law to repair the damage and put it in usable shape.

Leader explained that $40,000 borrowed from the Motor License Fund to finance October and November payments to school districts would be repaid before next spring when the state's road building program gets into high gear again. Republican candidates had called the move a "grab" at Motor License Fund moneys by the administration.

The governor conceded that the state is having trouble getting and retaining engineers for the Highways department. But he said the state has raised the general level of salaries paid engineers and tried by legislative action to put them on civil service status. He denied that "politics" were driving engineers out of state employment.

"The gentleman who made that charge (Charles C. Smith, Republican candidate for auditor general) led the opposition in his caucus to giving a single Republican vote for the civil service bill," Leader said.

Army 'Real Close' For Elvis Presley

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —UP— Elvis Presley, the rock 'n' roll singing idol of teenagers, has received a draft questionnaire and believes Army service is "real close."

But to some it looked more like an enlistment than an induction.

Presley confirmed to United Press last night that he received what he took to be a routine draft questionnaire from his local board here three weeks ago, but board officials denied they knew anything about it.

"I honestly don't know what the questionnaire means," Presley said. "I haven't heard anything since the questionnaire or about when to report for a physical. When they want me, I'm ready."

Adlai Assails GOP Tactics

Adlai E. Stevenson accused the Eisenhower administration today of a "snuggling intimacy" with the giants of business and a narrow lack of concern for everything that does not "pay off in the cash ledger."

In a speech prepared for delivery before a businessmen's lunch in New York City, the Democratic presidential candidate said his party is "the best friend America's business has."

He charged the Eisenhower administration lacks the broad representation and imagination to see that money invested in education, health, and welfare and natural resources is "money invested in the improvement of America—money which will repay itself many times in developing a population which can produce more, purchase more, and plan more for new expansion in the future."

Stevenson's address was the first in a 12-hour campaign through the city and its suburbs during which he scheduled five speaking appearances.

MADISON, Wis.—(UP)—C. W. Lemke, game biologist, tells this one to point up his theory that too many deer hunters do their hunting close to the roads, while deer amble safely deeper in the woods.

"I've seen two," the hunter replied. "But I couldn't get a shot at either one. Both times a car came along and scared them back into the woods before I could see if they were legal. I wish hunters would settle down and quit running around the roads so much."

Ike Makes H-Bomb Reply

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower is ready not only to stop H-bomb tests, but "to put all nuclear weapons aside permanently" as soon as "one basic requirement is met."

"This requirement is that we, as a nation, and all peoples, know safety from attack."

But until "properly safeguarded international agreements can be reached," this country must continue to develop "the most advanced weapons—for the sake of our own national safety, for the sake of all free nations, for the sake of peace itself."

The President thus capped his H-bomb policy late yesterday in releasing two long official memoranda detailing the history of U.S. nuclear developments and U.S. efforts to control the atom for peace since 1945.

Deals With H-bomb Tests

The President's statement and the two documents—which he called "a full and explicit review" of American nuclear policies and actions—dealt with banning H-bomb tests.

The documents also disclosed that Mr. Eisenhower twice—in late June, 1954, and again in June, 1955—approved inter-agency recommendations that the United States should not agree to a "test moratorium" in the absence of a disarmament agreement.

The returns are not completed, but all indications are that it was a financial as well as social and culinary success. The proceeds of the dinner will be used for school projects and development. Another dinner of this type is planned for the near future.

Mr. Gray and George E. Otto, president of the United Fund, commended the campaign workers for their progress and urged them to continue their intense efforts as the drive continues.

"Prospects are excellent that we will get very satisfying results in this campaign," Mr. Gray commented after the returns were added. "In all divisions we should finish substantially ahead of last year's campaign."

2 More USW Locals Join Dues Protest

PITTSBURGH — UP — Rank-and-file resentment to a $2 a month dues increase boiled over to two more large locals of the United Steelworkers today.

Members of USW Locals 1397 U. S. Steel's Homestead Works and 2227 at U. S. Steel's Irvin Works have signed petitions demanding a special union convention designed to return the dues to the $3 a month level.

It was reported 7,000 of the 9,000 union members at Homestead and most of the 4,000 Irvin workers signed the petitions.

The dues hike was imposed at the union's biennial convention at Los Angeles last month. A Dues Protest Committee was formed in the Monongahela Valley area shortly after delegates returned back to their jobs to face irate co-workers.

The revolt appeared to be localized in Pennsylvania and sections of Ohio but opposition workers were drumming up support where possible across the nation.

Workers at Crucible Steel company's Pittsburgh plant joined the parade yesterday when they sent off by registered mail petitions signed by 120 of 135 members of the salaried workers Local 3432 and 1,350 of 1,500 production workers in Local 1276.

Petitions for a special convention also were being circulated in 28 Beaver Valley locals and at Youngstown, Ohio.

One fourth of the USW's more than 2,700 locals must call for a special convention before one can be held.

Beer Prices Near Equal

Beer prices in New Jersey and Pennsylvania will be "so nearly the same after Nov. 1, that the slightly lower prices across the river will be almost pennies," a Pennsylvania beer dealer said today.

The New Jersey beer prices are scheduled to jump Nov. 1. The law authorizing the change was passed in June. The price hike in New Jersey will range from 40 to 75 cents for a case of 24 12-ounce cans.

The boost will cause the New Jersey beer to almost equal the present price of Pennsylvania beer, the dealer said, and the difference in price will be "mere pennies."

The dealer went on to say that the practice of Pennsylvanians risking jail sentences by buying New Jersey beer and bringing it back into the Commonwealth, will probably be lessened or eliminated by the price equalization.

Hungary Calls In Soviet Troops

were in revolt. One broadcast charged that counter-revolutionaries had "stormed plants and public buildings, murdered civilians, soldiers and security police."

The government called in Soviet troops because it was not prepared for such "bloody attacks from ambush," Radio Budapest said. It appeared to observers in Vienna that the government was no longer able to trust its own army.

No mention was made of Russian engagements or casualties and Budapest Radio said only that Soviet units had been called in to help restore order.

Throughout the long series of Budapest announcements—first of the fighting, then of the spreading warfare, then of the political developments—listeners in Vienna could hear rifle shots.

The revolt actually began yesterday when thousands of students demonstrated in the streets of Budapest. They demanded the return of Nagy and the ouster of the Soviet troops who have kept order in the country since World War II.

Witnesses Called In Turnpike Case

HARRISBURG — UP—A special grand jury today will hear additional witnesses in its investigation of alleged fraud and conspiracy in operations of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission under former Republican control.

The first to appear before the grand jury Tuesday was Girard D. Gilbert, New Cumberland, assistant to the turnpike commissioners. Acting President Judge William E. Neely has directed that witnesses may not disclose to anyone the nature of their testimony before the panel.

The county sheriff also was told to see that the amount of the check, $55.12, is paid to Robert J. Fabian, 143 Juniper drive, Levittown.

Patterson, a painter, gave the check to Fabian on June 9 as pay for work the latter had done for Patterson while in his employ.

The check was drawn on the Delaware Valley Bank and Trust company, and after Fabian cashed it, it was returned to him marked "insufficient funds."

Patterson told President Judge Edward G. Biester yesterday that he wasn't sure what his bank balance was when he made out the check, "but the bank always let me know when I overdraw."

He said that previously he was allowed time to put the necessary money in the bank.

He also testified that he was expecting payment on a job but that several of his workers left him before the job was completed, making him short of cash.
